

CoCo Seminar Series Fall 2016

Live Report from CCS 2016 in Amsterdam, the Netherlands

Local Hosts:

Farnaz Zamani Esfahlani,
Hyobin Kim (Systems Science PhD students)

Remote Hosts:

Alaa Alazzam (Systems
Science PhD student),
Hiroki Sayama (SSIE)

Wednesday September 21st, 2016

8:30-9:30am Engineering Building H-9

(Knoll-MacDonald Commons / Watson Commons)

We will connect from the Binghamton campus to the venue of the 2016 Conference on Complex Systems (CCS 2016; <http://www.ccs2016.org/>), the largest international conference on complex systems that will be held in Amsterdam, the Netherlands, to get a live report of how the field of complex systems science is developing globally. We may have special guests. Check out the conference schedule online at:

<http://www.ccs2016.org/programme-overview.html>

<http://schedule.ccs2016.org/>

Note: This will be a live report for on-campus audience, but not a live webcast. The session will be recorded and posted to Vimeo like other regular CoCo seminar talks.

For more information, contact Hiroki Sayama (sayama@binghamton.edu).

<http://coco.binghamton.edu/>