

CoCo Seminar Series: Fall 2011

\** Now the CoCo Seminars are also an official graduate seminar course BME-524X ****

Wednesday 9:00-10:00am (NOTE: We are now starting at 9am again!)
Biotechnology Building, Room 2221 (ITC Conference Room)
With refreshments; followed by free discussions

September 7: Chris Ruebeck (guest speaker from Lafayette College)
"Consumer Search, Rationing Rules, and the Consequence for Competition"

September 21: Pam Mischen (Public Administration)
"Virtual Communities of Broome Country"

October 5: Jeff Schmidt (Systems Science)
"Generative Network Automata: A Generalized Framework for Modeling Adaptive Network Dynamics Using Graph Rewritings"

October 19: Scott Henkel (English, General Literature and Rhetoric)
"Are Swarms Good? Complex Systems and Critical Theory"

November 2: Todd Guilfoos (Economics)
"An Economic Model of Water Extraction Utilizing Agent Based Modeling"

November 16: Chanyu Hao and Andra Serban (Management)
"Group Decision Making: Effects of Gender, Expertise and Decision Procedure"

November 30: Tom Raway (Systems Science)
"Exploring DIVA Capabilities as a Artificial Neural Network Model For Machine Learning"

Contact Hiroki Sayama (sayama@binghamton.edu) for more information